ARTIST STATEMENT

My work is a reflection of my life. I have travelled extensively, viewing, and photographing animals in their natural environments, which translates directly into my sculpture and paintings. This series of sculpture focuses on endangered and threatened species. Through my realistic and evocative sculpting style I hope to encourage the viewer to more closely observe the natural world and reflect on some of the issues responsible for habitat and species decline.

EXPERIENCE

After a 25-year career in high end renovations and design, I have taken my skills, knowledge, and attention to detail and applied it to my passion for wildlife, art, and sculpture. I am by all aspects completely self-taught, with no formal art training.
